Photo and Video Submission Guidelines

What are we looking for?
Whether it was hurricane swell at Masonboro or a secret spot discovered while studying abroad, Randall Library welcomes all submissions of surf photography and videography related to UNCW students, faculty, staff and alumni.

Eligibility:
Open to all undergraduate and graduate students currently enrolled at UNCW as well as faculty and staff employed by the university. Submissions are also open to all UNCW alumni.

How do I submit my photos and videos?
To submit your photos and videos, use the submission web form. If your file is larger than [insert accepted size, 8MB], please fill out this submission form and send submissions to [insert randall gmail].

- Photos: Digital images must be saved in .JPEG or .PNG format. Scans of negatives, transparencies or photographic prints are acceptable.
- Videos: Please follow these recommended guidelines

You may submit as many photos and videos as you would like. For each file, please fill out a separate submission form. Files should be named using your first and last name along with consecutive numbers for multiple submissions. Ex. smith_john_01.jpg or smith_john_02.mpeg

Submissions must include:
1. A title
2. Relation to UNCW
3. Date: An approximate date, such as the month and year is acceptable.
4. Location
5. Description: Provide as much detail as you wish to explain the context of the submission. What beach are you at and how did you get there? Who is in the photo or video? Is it a reef break or a sand bar? What were the conditions that day? What kind of device was used to capture the photo or video? You get the picture…

Are you interested in allowing Randall Library to archive your submission in the Cape Fear Surfing Archive? Click here to learn more about the archive and its mission.

Questions?
Email baugnonr@uncw.edu.