AFRICANA STUDIES RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

Monday, March 25, 2024
University of North Carolina Wilmington
Open to UNCW faculty, staff, and students

Daytime Events, to be held in the Azalea Coast Rooms in the Fisher University Union
9:00 am - 10:30 am	Opening Remarks and Research Lightning Talks by UNCW Researchers (group 1) light breakfast will be provided
11:00 am - 12:00 pm	Panel Discussion: Blackness and Digital Scholarship
1:00 - 2:00 pm	Faculty Resource Fair: Research, Publication, and Teaching this event is specifically intended for faculty and staff
2:00 - 3:00 pm	Editor/Author Panel Discussion: Breonna Taylor and Me: Black Women, Racial Justice, and Reclaiming Hope
3:30 - 4:30 pm	Research Lightning Talks by UNCW Researchers (group 2)
Evening Events
5:00 - 6:30 pm	Pre-Keynote Networking Reception for Faculty, Staff, & Students Clock Tower Lounge in Fisher Student Center; food and drinks will be served
6:30 - 7:30 pm	Keynote Lecture by Dr. Sherwin Bryant, Rice University Lumina Theater in Fisher Student Center

For more information, visit lib.uncw.edu/afnsymposium

UNCW®
EEO/AA Institution

This symposium is co-sponsored by Randall Library, the Office of Research & Innovation, the College of Humanities, Social Sciences, & the Arts, and the Office of Institutional Diversity & Inclusion. Those who would like to inquire about access or request disability accommodations may contact Kiana Webster at websterk@uncw.edu.