

UNCW Randall Library
Release for Use of Student Work

By signing the agreement below, you give UNCW the right to reproduce, publish, exhibit and share your original work, and make derivative works from your original work (for example, resizing your artwork).

I hereby grant a non-exclusive, royalty-free, world-wide license to the work described below to the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and grant the University, in perpetuity, permission to reproduce, publish, display, distribute, or make derivative works for all lawful purposes, any writings or artwork, without limitations, through any public or private media outlet in any media or form, including but not limited to the Internet, in which:

I have participated in the Randall Library Flash Fiction program during the Spring 2012 semester. I understand that the work produced from said program may be used by the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

I expressly release UNCW, its trustees, its agents, employees, licensees and assigns from and against any and all claims which I may have for damages for defamation, libel, slander, invasion of privacy, right of publicity, copyright infringement or any other causes of action or claims by me arising out of the use, reproduction, distribution, publication or exhibition of said work.

All student work is held to the terms of the UNCW Academic Honor Code which can be found on page 5 of the UNCW Code of Student Life. Cheating and plagiarism will result in immediate disciplinary action.

I am over 18 years of age and have read the above authorization and release prior to its execution.
